Overview

Smoo is a smoothie sharing social media app! It allows users to create their own accounts and share their favorite smoothie recipes. The app calculates the calories of all recipes shared, and users can favorite, and leave feedback on others recipes. Users also don't have to leave the app to find where local grocery stores are to get the ingredients they need!

UI & Functionality

Technologies

The web application was developed in flutter, using dart. I used Google Firebase for user authentication, user data storage, post data/comments, image storage. Overpass API was used to get data regarding user location, and I parsed the data given for grocery stores.
